All graduate programs at South Carolina State University are administered by the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies through the Chairpersons of the departments and Deans of the Schools in which the programs are housed. Policies and procedures to facilitate the administration of these programs are developed by graduate faculty and approved by the Graduate Studies Council of the Faculty Senate by authority of the Constitution and By Laws of the Academic Faculty of South Carolina State University. All provisions of this Manual are subject to review and approval of the University Administration and Board of Trustees.

The original School of Graduate Studies Policies and Procedures Manual was approved by the Graduate Studies Council February 11, 1986 and by President M. B. Admissions Policy. Graduate study is significantly different from undergraduate study, particularly in its focus on independent inquiry and scholarly pursuit of new knowledge in highly specialized fields of study. Therefore, admission into the School of Graduate Studies is primarily dependent upon the applicant's demonstrated ability to pursue scholarly academics, research, and writing at the rigorous level required in advanced study. The Admissions and Retention Committee seeks to admit only those students who can meet the high standards set by a well-qualified graduate faculty in high quality graduate programs. To meet its responsibility, the Committee thoroughly reviews each individual application files for evidence of demonstrated academic promise with each member voting to approve or disapprove based on, but not limited to, completeness of required documentation, undergraduate academic record, relevance of past undergraduate and/or graduate study to proposed area of study, GRE, NTE, MAT or GMAT test scores, and professional recommendations. An applicant is eligible to register and pursue graduate courses within the limits of his/her admissions status only after receiving official notification of the Committee's recommendation(s) in a letter signed by the Graduate Dean.

- C. Admissions and Retention Committee. A committee of six (6) persons shall be recommended (by the Graduate Dean) to the Graduate Studies Council from graduate faculty representatives of the various graduate programs. The appointments, as approved by the Graduate Studies Council, shall run for four years, with vacancies being filled by immediate recommendation and appointment to four-year terms. The Graduate Dean shall serve as ex officio Committee Chairperson and, as such, is responsible for coordinating and supervising the collection, collation, and referral to the Committee the official application credentials for all degree-seeking students. (See Appendix A.)
- D. Admissions Standards and Procedures. Admission into any graduate degree program at South Carolina State University is essentially two-tiered so that each degree applicant must first (a) meet the standards for Full Admission status into the School of Graduate Studies and, then, (b) file for admission to the specific program of study. Applicants who fail to meet the minimum standards for admission described hereinafter in Appendix A, but who provide sufficient other evidence of academic promise may be recommended by the Admissions Committee for Conditional status. The intent of the latter status is to provide an opportunity for a disapproved but marginally qualified applicant to prove her or his academic promise through meeting highly rigorous academic conditions within a restrictive time period. Failure to meet any condition(s) within the prescribed time will result in immediate dismissal. Specific details for Admissions Committee activities, procedures and standards are in Appendix A.
- E. The Graduate Studies Catalog. The current Graduate Catalog shall serve as the primary means for publishing and disseminating up-to-date and detailed procedures and guidelines to implement this Policies and Procedures Manual;_with the latter serving as the final written authority in instance of conflicting interpretations. (Of course, permanent changes to or ad hoc deviation from the Manual's requirements may be sought by graduate students and/or faculty through petition to the Graduate Studies Council.)

The current Catalog shall contain, but not be limited to, (a) an up-to-date-University Calendar, (b) General Requirements for all graduate degree and non-degree programs offered at South Carolina State University, (c) Academic regulations, (d) Programs of Study, (e) Descriptions of Graduate Courses, and (f) pertinent instructions to assist and guide graduate students and their faculty advisors.

- F. Policies Governing Educational Administration Degree Programs (Ed. D. and Ed. S.). The Doctor of Education (Ed. D.) degree at South Carolina State University is awarded in recognition of distinguished attainment in Educational Administration. It is evidenced by coursework, examinations, and by the completion of a dissertation presented to a Doctoral Committee and successfully defended by a Degree Candidate. The Chairperson of the Department of Educational Administration and departmental faculty shall publish and distribute policies and procedures manuals and other guidelines approved by the Graduate Studies Council.

G. Thesis and Dissertation Guidelines. All candidates for the M.S. and M.A. degrees who elect the thesis option and all candidates for the Ed. D. degree must conduct original research on a problem germane to the major field of study, and then, must present, defend, and publish a thesis (master's level) or dissertation (doctoral level). Research reports must follow the stylistic guidelines set forth in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, current edition, and the School of Graduate Studies publication, General Requirement or Master's Theses and Doctoral Dissertations (may be found in the Graduate Office).

VI. PARLIAMENTARY AUTHORITY

The rules contained in Roberts Rules of Order, Newly Revised, shall govern all meetings and in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with other provisions of this Manual.

VII. AMENDMENTS

A proposed amendment to this Manual shall be submitted in writing to the Chairperson of the Graduate Studies Council at least fifteen calendar days prior to the regular meeting at which it is to be discussed.

Any 30 members of the Graduate Faculty of the School of Graduate Studies or a majority of the Graduate Council at an official meeting may propose amendments to this manual.

Any proposed amendments shall be submitted to the Graduate Faculty and shall become effective upon approval by two-thirds of the Graduate Faculty members voting within thirty days of the day on which the ballots are distributed.

APPENDIX A

ADMISSIONS AND RETENTION COMMITTEE GUIDELINES

Graduate Study is significantly different from undergraduate study, particularly in its focus on independent inquiry and scholarly pursuit of new knowledge in highly specialized fields of study. Therefore, admission into the School of Graduate Studies is primarily dependent upon the applicant's demonstrated ability to pursue academics, research, and writing at the rigorous level required in advanced study. The Admissions and Retention Committee is responsible for reviewing the application file of each applicant and recommending to the Dean of Graduate Studies "Full" or "Conditional" admission standing or "Non-Admission." The Committee's recommendations are based on, but not limited to, completeness of required documentation, undergraduate academic record, relevance of past undergraduate and/or graduate study to proposed area of study, GRE, MAT, NTE or GMAT (Agribusiness Only) test scores, and professional recommendations. An applicant is eligible to register and pursue graduate courses, within the limits of his/her admissions status, only after receiving official notification of the Committee's recommendation(s) in a letter signed by the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies.

A. Admissions and Retention Committee. A committee of six persons shall be recommended by the Graduate Dean to the Graduate Studies Council from graduate Faculty Representatives of the various graduate programs. The appointments approved by the Graduate Studies Council shall serve for four years, with vacancies being filled by immediate recommendation and appointment to four year terms. The Graduate Dean shall serve as ex officio Committee Chairperson and, as such, is responsible for coordinating and supervising the collection, collation and referral of the application credentials for all degree seeking students to the Committee.

B. Admission Standards and Procedures

- I. Each applicant for Full Admission to the School of Graduate Studies, for purposes of pursuing any master's degree program, must submit:
  - a. Official copies of a baccalaureate degree earned at a regionally accredited institution, showing requisite study for the proposed master's degree program with a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher on a 4.0 scale.
  - b. Official copies of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) General Examination (Verbal, Quantitative and Analytical). Scores at or above the 25th percentile are preferred. National Teacher Examination (NTE) scores for the area examination are acceptable for applicants for M.Ed. programs only. Miller Analogies Test (MAT) scores may be filed in lieu of the GRE.

- c. A completed application form with a written section which clearly and satisfactorily explains the applicant's career and graduate degree objectives.
  - d. A satisfactory score on the English Proficiency Examination (EPE).
2. Applications for advanced level degree programs (Ed.D. and Ed.S.) may be submitted once per semester on or before the deadline to be considered for admission for the following semester. Application forms are available from the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies. Minimum credentials required are (a) a completed Graduate Application form, (b) official transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate work, (c) Graduate Record Examination, general area, or Miller Analogies Test score reports, and (d) three letters of recommendation.
  3. The Graduate Admissions Counselor will assemble all completed applications and notify Committee members of review sessions called by the Graduate Dean, as needed, but not less than three times per academic session. Not less than four Committee members must review each degree applicant's file and a simple majority is needed for approval, disapproval or Conditional Admission. Individual committee member votes are guided by the above minimum standards, with the following recommendations possible:
    - a. FULL ADMISSION. This status is limited to those applicants who have applied to work toward a master's degree and who have provided sufficient evidence of their ability to complete a degree program. Each fully admitted student must follow carefully all sequential steps leading to degree candidacy in order to maintain good standing, the first of which is to apply for admission into the chosen degree program in accordance with that program's admissions requirements.
    - b. CONDITIONAL ADMISSION. This status is allowed with a recommendation from the Graduate Admissions and Retention Committee when an applicant for a degree program is disapproved for Full Admission but shows good academic potential. Specially, any applicant with a GPA below the minimum 2.50 but who (a) performed well in the last two undergraduate years, and (b) earned a GPA not less than 2.35, may be considered for "Conditional" status by the Committee. The nature, extent, and number of conditional courses and examinations to be met by each Conditional student will be determined by the Graduate Admissions Committee and communicated to each Conditional student. Successful completion of all conditions set by the Admissions and Retention Committee is considered the equivalent of an earned undergraduate GPA of 2.50, and the applicant is automatically awarded full admission to the School of Graduate Studies when the final condition is met. All conditions must be met as specified; courses taken in this status must be earned with a B or higher grade; and all conditions must be completed within three consecutive academic sessions unless otherwise specified by the Committee in writing. Failure to meet one or more conditions as specified will result in immediate dismissal from graduate study, subject to appeal to the Graduate Studies Council. Failure on a second attempt to meet a condition or failure of two or more of the conditions may not be submitted for appeal for one full calendar year from the date of dismissal. The Dean of the School of Graduate Studies will serve as advisor for all "conditional" students.

- c. NONDEGREE ADMISSION. This status is provided for nondegree-seeking students who have earned bachelor's degrees from regionally accredited institutions with cumulative undergraduate GPAs of 2.35 or higher and who wish to pursue limited graduate study. Nondegree students may pursue a limited number of 500- and 600- level graduate courses so long as they maintain good academic standing, meet any course prerequisites or requirements, and received approval of the Department Chair and Dean of the School of Graduate Studies. If a nondegree student later meets all requirements for admission to a degree program, he or she may apply in writing to the Admissions and Retention Committee. If an applicant with a cumulative undergraduate GPA of less than 2.50 is admitted in nondegree status, he or she must later attain the 2.50 minimum or its equivalent to become eligible for any master's degree program. In addition, a maximum of 15 semester hours of graduate credit earned in nondegree status may be approved for transfer to any graduate degree program.

Note: A nondegree student with a master's degree from an accredited institution may enroll in an unlimited number of 500-, 600- and 700-level courses after filing the official master's transcript with the application and receiving a letter of admission signed by the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies. However, the 15 hour transfer limit applies to any person in this category who later seeks admission to any other graduate program;
