

The South Carolina program for Recruitment and Retention of Minority Teachers (SC-PRRMT) is located at South Carolina State University and is structured under the aegis of the Division of Academic Affairs. SC-PRRMT is an Education Improvement Act—funded program. The SC-PRRMT seeks to promote the teaching as a career choice by publicizing the many career opportunities and benefits in the field of education in the State of South Carolina. The Mission of The South Carolina Program for the Recruitment and Retention of Minority Teachers (SC-PRRMT) is an Education Improvement Act – funded program. SC-PRRMT seeks to promote teaching as a career choice by publicizing the many career opportunities and benefits in the field of education in the State of South Carolina. The mission of the Program is to increase the pool of teachers in the State by making education accessible to non-traditional students (teacher assistants, career path changers, and technical college transfer students) and by providing an academic support system to help students meet entry, retention, and exit program requirements. In collaboration with South Carolina State University’s Department of Teacher Education, the Program is authorized by the South Carolina General Assembly to establish and maintain Satellite Teacher Education Program (off-campus) sites in twenty-one geographic areas of the State. SC-PRRMT also administers an EIA Forgivable Loan Program and participates in state, regional, and national teacher recruitment initiatives.
